University of Ljubljana, Slovenia

"On May 15-19, 2023, as part of Erasmus + administrative mobility, we visited the University of Ljubljana, Slovenia.

During the visit, we met with representatives of the School of Business and Economics. We got acquainted with the organizational structure of the university, its achievements and objectives.

within the meetings, lectures and trainings about modern challenges in the digital world took place intensively.

One of the important points of the program was aimed at mutual cooperation and sharing of experiences. For our part, we shared the experience of the Caucasus University in marketing expertise with the participants of the Staff week, on which we received positive feedback.

In addition to educational and academic topics, we visited the sights of the city and got to know the culture of Slovenia. we expanded business ties and planned future cooperation.

The visit turned out to be interesting and productive".
