

Guranda Chelidze - Ph.D. in History, Professor at the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Caucasus University; Academic Director of the Bachelor Program of European Studies; Professor Jean Monnet; Head of the CU Irakli Tsereteli NATO Research Centre.

She has 30 years of experience in teaching and research at higher education institutions; 10 years of experience as a secondary school history and civic education teacher and trainer in the field of European integration.

She is the author of 50 scientific publications on Georgian and European history, participant of many local and international conferences, various trainings and seminars.

With 15 years of experience in grant projects: author and coordinator of the Caucasus University grant project “Georgia - the 90s and after”; expert and coordinator of Tempus and Erasmus+ projects, including Tempus Program “European Integration and Employment Relations” (EIGER); Jean Monnet Projects “Triangle Effect of European Studies at Schools” (TEESS) and “Legal Face of the European Union” (LFEU); Professor of Jean Monnet Module “Europeanisation of Law Programs in Georgia” (EU-LP-GE), Friedrich Ebert Foundation expert in EU policy projects, MC and member Working Group of various projects of European Cooperation in Science and Technology – COST.

She has many years of experience in the National Centre for Educational Quality Enhancement - member of the Higher Education Sector Council for History, member of the Accreditation Board for Higher Education Programs.