Through the Erasmus+ program, I spent a semester in Vilnius, Lithuania, specifically, at SMK College of Applied Sciences, and I can confidently say that this experience completely transformed my perspective on education and life.

I encountered a diverse learning environment, where classes were not only theoretical. They were based on innovative approaches, teamwork on projects, and real-world challenges. These methods gave me the freedom to be creative, active, and to apply in practice the knowledge I had gained at Caucasus University, which significantly enriched the learning experience.

Vilnius itself was the perfect city for all of this. Its energetic and vibrant atmosphere offered new experiences every day — historic old town, contemporary culture, festivals, and concerts that made student life even more diverse and exciting.

However, the most valuable part were the people, who made these five months truly unforgettable. I made friends from all over, who changed my perspective on the world and became an inseparable part of my life. The days I spent with them will always stay with me.

Erasmus+ is not just an exchange program — it is an experience that transforms you into a new person. During this time, I grew both academically and personally and gained far more than just education. I highly encourage any student who has the opportunity to participate to take full advantage of it.
