

Guranda Iobashvili

Masaryk University, Czech Republic

From June 1–5, 2026, Guranda Iobashvili, Deputy Director of the Student Services and Monitoring Department at Caucasus University, participated in the International Staff Week organized by Masaryk University in Brno, Czech Republic, within the framework of the Erasmus+ Administrative Staff Mobility Program.

As part of the International Staff Week, participants had the opportunity to learn about Masaryk University's practices in international cooperation, student mobility, and the management of administrative processes. The program included thematic sessions on Erasmus+ program administration, support services for international students, university internationalization, and modern educational approaches.

During the visit, Guranda Iobashvili took part in various professional meetings, discussions, and workshops, where representatives of higher education institutions from different countries shared their experiences and best practices. The program also included cultural activities, providing participants with an opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of Czech history, culture, and the educational environment.

The purpose of the visit was to strengthen international cooperation, exchange experiences, and explore practices that contribute to the improvement of student services and administrative processes. Participation in the program represented an important opportunity for professional development, the enhancement of international networks, and the creation of new prospects for collaboration.
