Introduction

The history of the Caucasus University begins in 1998, when the Caucasus School of Business (CSB) was established in cooperation with Georgia State University with the assistance of the Eurasia Foundation and the US News Agency (USIA) and the first western business education was introduced in Georgia. Shortly after its introduction in 1999, Bachelor, Master and Doctoral programs in Business Administration were launched. This was followed by the establishment of a private higher education institution - Caucasus University - in 2004. The university has the legal right to award diplomacy specialist qualifications based on Georgian legislation: bachelors, masters and PhD degrees.

CU consists of various schools: Business (CSB), Law (CSL), Media (CSM), Technology (CST), Humanities and Social Sciences (CSH), Governance (CSG), Tourism (CST), Medicine and HealthCare (CMS), Economics (CSE), Education (CES) and Doctoral Schools (CDS).

Caucasus University offers high quality education to students, provided by a combination of great academic qualifications, practical lecturers and effective curriculum. Courses are delivered by internationally qualified professional lecturers and professors, which ensures preparation of highly-qualified specialists in various fields.

Caucasus University has well-established relations with many of the top European, American and Asian universities. Students and academic staff are encouraged to share international experience.

The employment rate of Caucasus University Graduates exceeds 95%. They work in local, international, public and private companies both in Georgian and around the world.

Strategic Planning Methodology

The strategic planning process of CU was carried out with the active involvement of stakeholders during 2018-2019. The process was leaded by Vice President of Research and Strategic Development at Caucasus University. The strategic planning process was initiated and the results were discussed by the Strategic Planning Cross Functional Working Group and the Board of Governors.

The effectiveness of the strategic planning process is determined by the methodology presented in Chart I.

I. Strategic Development Methodology for 2020-2026 Academic Years

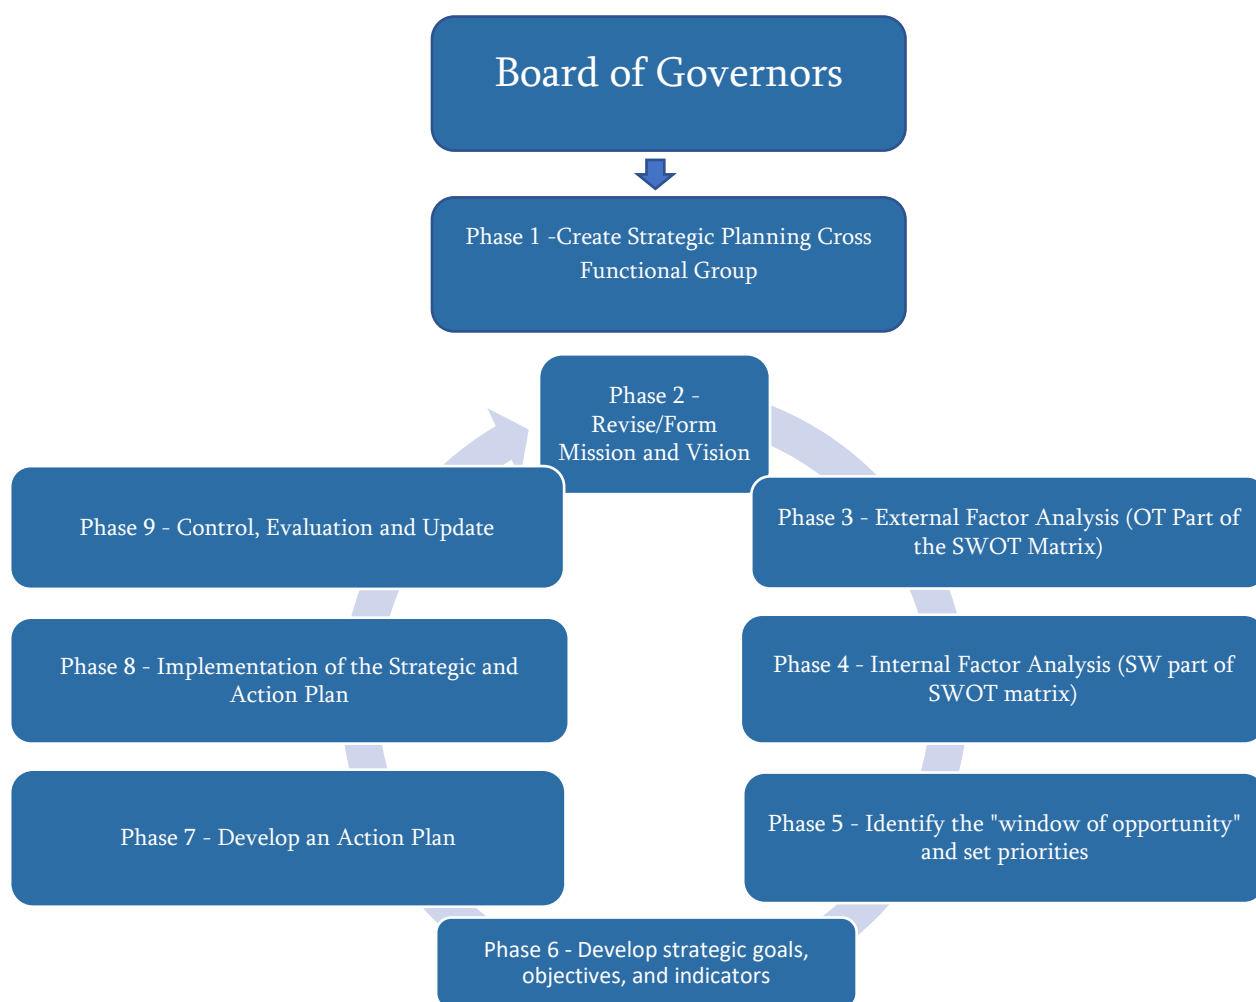

Diagram 1. Strategic Planning Process

In order to develop and update the strategic plan, Strategy Planning Cross Functional Working Group has been established at Caucasus University, consisting of:

1. Vice President of Research and Strategic Development
2. Vice President in Monitoring and Administrative Affairs
3. Vice President in Academic Affairs
4. Vice President in Material Resources
5. Director of Finance and Budget Department
6. Director of Quality Assurance Department
7. Director of Human Resource Department
8. Director of Information Technology Department
9. Director of Marketing and PR Department
10. Director of International Relations and Projects Department
11. Head of Student and Alumni Service

Regarding the Strategic Plan 2020-2026, Strategic Development Department, with the participation of the Cross Functional Working Group, regularly held meetings. The Department of Strategic Development organized in-depth interviews, surveys and focus groups meetings with various stakeholders (students, academic and administrative staff, management) to discuss various topics related to this issue.

The Department of Strategic Development conducted workshops with various stakeholders (administration, students, alumni, academic staff, employers) of Caucasus University, filling out questionnaires to generate views on the mission, vision, values of Caucasus University. And thereafter modified mission, vision and values were approved by the Board of Governors.

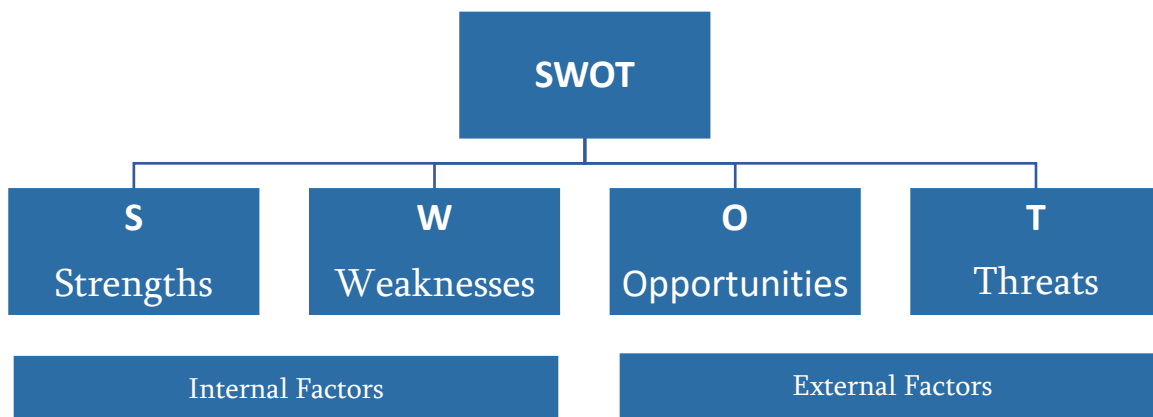

Based on the results of the specially designed questionnaires, Strategic Development Department identified opportunities and threats to the University of Caucasus, the strengths and weaknesses of the University. The Cross Functional Working team identified a “Window of Opportunity” and determined long-term strategic priorities.

The Department of Strategic Development through individual and general meetings with each school dean and administration, and through survey methods, provided views on strategic objectives, metrics and targets of all CU schools. The Department of Strategic Development has incorporated the received information into the strategic map and Balanced Scorecard. Strategic maps of the Caucasus University and each school have been developed, showing strategic objectives and their Cause-Effect links. Balanced Scorecard is a strategic planning and management approach that shows the overall picture of an organization in terms of key dimensions of its operations, such as financial sustainability, customer-oriented approach, internal processes creation, staff growth, and resource optimization. Based on these methods, a strategic development plan for the Caucasus University and each school was developed. The Department introduced the draft version of the Strategic Development Plan to stakeholders and received informative feedback from the meetings. The final draft was discussed in the Strategic Planning Working Group, where it was finalized and submitted to the Governing Board for approval.

Based on the Strategic Development Plan, the Strategic Development Department together with the relevant departments developed a 3-year action plan. Thereafter, the Cross Functional Working Group set up a monitoring and evaluation mechanism for the implementation of the Strategic and Action Plans. Based on the results of the annual evaluation the Department of Strategic Development will revise the action plan twice a year and, if necessary, make changes with the relevant units. In addition, it provides periodic evaluation of the progress of the strategic development plan, preparation of the relevant report and, in exceptional cases, preparation of the draft strategic change plan.

SWOT Analysis

In order to formulate a strategic plan, the Department of Strategic Development conducted a SWOT analysis at the Caucasus University.

The Department of Strategic Development developed the first version of a special questionnaire, which was discussed by the Cross Functional Group. According to their recommendations, a modified questionnaire was developed and sent as a pilot survey to up to ten respondents to check the issues related to filling out the questionnaire. Based on the advice received, the Department of Strategic Development developed the final versions of the questionnaires.

8 types of questionnaires were created based on the target group. The respondents of the questionnaire were senior management of Caucasus University, deans of Caucasus University schools, program directors, academic staff, administrative staff, students and employers.

The questionnaire consisted of 5 types of questions. By the first three questions the strengths and weaknesses of the Caucasus University were identified.

Internal factors of the CU were listed in the first question and the respondents had to rate the importance of each by the points (from 1 to 9 points). The analysis of the results of this question identified important factors for Caucasus University competitiveness. In the second question, respondents rated each factor as weak or strong for the CU and wrote scores (from 1 to 9)

according to their perceptions. In the third question, they could identify additional factors that were not included in the list and evaluate similarly.

According to the results, the Department of Strategic Development has constructed a chart according to which the factors are divided into 4 zones (Figure 3):

1. Less important factors, which are weaknesses of Caucasus University
2. Less important factors, which are strengths of Caucasus University
3. Important factors that are strengths of Caucasus University
4. Important factors that are weaknesses of the Caucasus University

Strengths:

- University recognition, reputation/image
- Teaching process
- Academic and practical experience of academic personnel and invited lecturers
- Individual approach with students
- Professionalism of administrative staff

- International recognition (accreditation, association membership, etc.) and partnerships
- University exchange and dual degree programs
- Financial support (training programs, research projects, etc.)
- Employment (locally and internationally) of graduates
- Equipment for classroom audiences
- Social spaces
- IT infrastructure
- High involvement of staff and students in social responsibility

Weaknesses:

- Insufficient intensity of university research activities (fundamental research, applied research)
- Small number of international research projects
- Salary of academic staff and invited lecturers
- Lack of library reading space

The fourth to fifth open-ended questions were related to external factors. Respondents should list the external factors that will create a favorable opportunity for the University of Caucasus to become more competitive in the next 3 years. The fifth question was to identify the external factors that would hinder and / or pose a threat to the Caucasus University's strong competitiveness over the next three years.

Opportunities

- Increased number of local and international research projects
- Interested in teaching foreign students in Georgia
- Promotion of the vocational education sector
- Development of information technologies that can provide new, innovative ways of education
- Education reform, reducing credit levels

Threats:

- Socio-economic environment in the country
- Increase in competition - Increase in the number of competing universities / academic programs
- Barriers to enrolling foreign students
- Lack of academic staff in Georgia
- Decreasing employment market - lack of jobs

Strategic objectives of Caucasus University were elaborated and analyzed based on the results obtained.

Mechanisms of Monitoring Implementation of the Strategic Development and Action Plans

Caucasus University Strategic Development Department ensures monitoring, implementation and amendment of the Strategic and Action plans of Caucasus University and its Schools when and if needed.

Monitoring of the process of the implementation of the Strategic and Action plans is broken into four stages (Diagram 3):

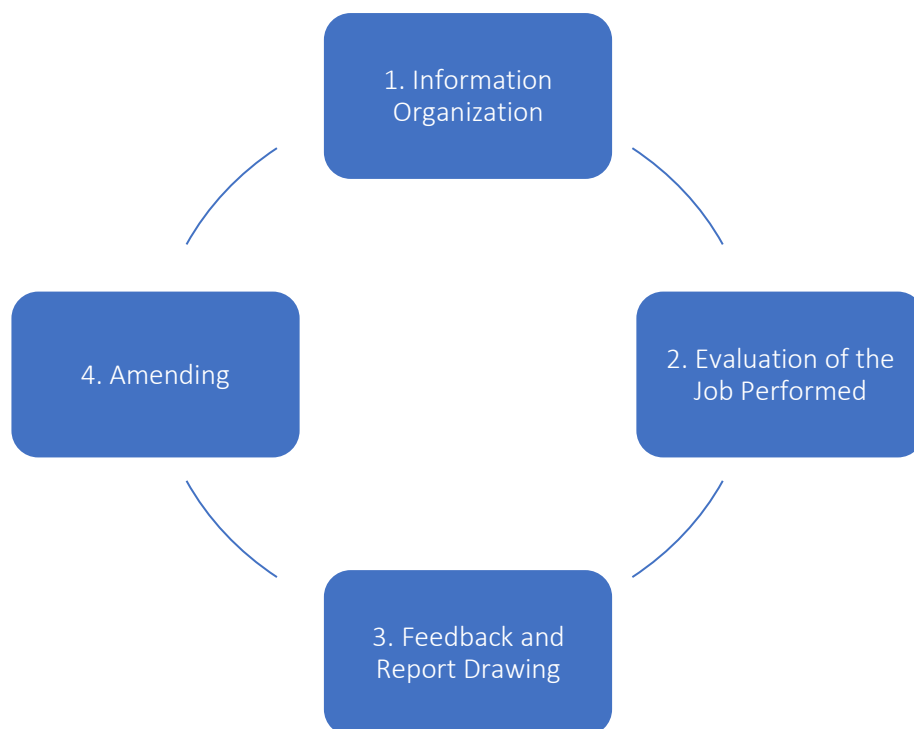

Diagram 3: Monitoring stages of the process of the implementation of the Strategic and Action plans

Stage 1: Information Organization Stage

The information contained in Caucasus University Strategic and Action plans is entered into a tailored software – Monitoring Program of Performance and Benchmark - created for effective monitoring of implementation of the Strategic Development and Action Plans.

The Strategic Development Department shall enter the following information:

- the University and the Schools' strategic goals;
- indicators and benchmarks to measure the objectives;
- the activities planned for reaching the objectives along with their implementation progress and appropriate deadlines;

The program is accessible for the school deans, department heads and others involved in the implementation and execution of the Strategic Development plan. They shall, on a regular basis, indicate the progress in respect of each goal and action, its current status, present situation, etc.

Stage 2: The stage of the evaluation of the job performed

On this stage of monitoring, the Strategic Development Department ensures proper consideration of the obtained information and evaluation of the work performed.

The Department evaluates the action plan two times a year: at the end of the Fall and Spring semesters. On the monitoring stage, the planned and conducted activities are compared and the progress and status related to each of the initiative are reviewed.

Evaluation of implementation of the Strategic Development Plan is carried out after 2-2.5 years of its commencement. The Strategic Development Department measures each goal with a relevant measure indicator. The target benchmark and the benchmark reached are compared.

Stage 3: Stage of Feedback and Report Drawing

After evaluation of the job performed, the Strategic Development Department, together with cross functional working group, shall issue appropriate advice and recommendations and consider them with the relevant schools and departments.

Stage 4. – Stage of Amending the Strategic and Action plans

After the preceding stages are completed, the Strategic Development Department shall decide if any changes to the action plan are needed and shall operate accordingly.

The findings obtained as a result of the monitoring can be responded in the following ways:

- Provided the objectives are met and the activities carried out according to the plan, implementation shall continue as planned.
- In the case the objectives and activities are not executed according to the strategic plan, the reasons shall be found.
 - If the reason of failing to reach the target benchmark is inadequacy of the activities planned, additional activities shall be generated, planned and the action plan shall be changed accordingly. The final version of the Action Plan shall be drawn by the Department in cooperation with the working group and presented to the Board of Governors; the actions shall be taken in accordance with the revised plan after an approval is received.
 - If the reason of the failure of reaching the set benchmark is alteration of any internal or external factors, which makes reaching the set objective impossible, the Strategic Development Department shall amend the Strategic Development Plan (e.g., the target benchmark shall be reviewed and changed, the strategic objectives modified, etc.). On the basis of the revised strategic plan, the Department shall make changes to the action plan. Later, the Department shall present the project of changes to the Cross Functional Group; a final version shall be drawn up, which shall be considered by the Board of Governors; the revised plan shall be approved by the Partners' Meeting (General Meeting of the Shareholders), if needed. The actions shall be carried out in accordance with the modified plan.
