

ANDRES KEEVALLIK

Rector of Tallinn University of Technology, professor of digital control systems design

Personal:

- Born: February 24, 1943, Pärnu, Estonia
- Address: Ehitajate tee 5, 19086 Tallinn, Estonia

Education:

- Tallinn University of Technology, electrical engineer (automation and telematics), 1967
- Institute of Cybernetics, Estonian Academy of Sciences
Doctor of Philosophy, technical cybernetics, 1974
- Linköping University, Sweden, visiting scholar, 1976-1977
- Karlsruhe University, Germany, visiting scholar, 1986-1987
- Grenoble University, France, visiting scholar, 1993
- Darmstadt University, Germany, visiting scholar, 1994

Professional experience:

- Tallinn University of Technology (TUT) assistant, engineer doctoral student, associate professor 1967-1976
- TUT, Head of the Department of Computer Engineering, 1976-1987
- TUT, Head of the Laboratory of Digital Control Systems Design, 1987-1992
- TUT, Head of the Department of Computer Engineering, professor 1992-1995
- TUT, Dean of the faculty of IT 1995-1997
- Vice-President of the Union Bank of Estonia, Head of the Department of IT 1997-1999
- TUT, Rector 2000-2005
- TUT, Vice-Rector for Development 2005 – August 2010

Professional societies and titles:

- Chairman of the Section of A.S.Popov Radio, Electronics and Communication Society, 1980-1992
- President of Associations of Estonian Electrical Engineers, 1992-1998
- chartered engineer, member of IEE 1992
- Vice-President of Estonian Associations of Engineering Societies, representative of Estonia in FEANI, 1996-1999
- chartered engineer of Estonia, 1998
- EUR ING, the title of FEANI, 1998
- member of the State Board of R&D of Estonia, 2000-2005
- Chairman of the Scientific Board of the Defence Ministry of Estonia, 2002-2005
- Chairman of the Board of Tallinn Technology Park 2003- present
- Academician of the Georgian Engineering Academy, 2007
- Honorary Doctor of Helsinki University of Technology, Finland 2007