GARRY JACOBS

Dr. Garry Lawrence Jacobs is an American social scientist and management consultant whose work is focused on transdisciplinary theory in the social sciences and its application to promote peace, employment and equitable development in the fields of business, economy, education, governance, and international security.

Dr. Jacobs is a Chief Executive Officer of the World Academy of Art & Science, USA, since 2013 and previously served as its Chairman. He is also the founding Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of the World University Consortium (WUC), USA, which seeks to promote development of a world-class system of higher education available to all. He is also the Managing Editor of Cadmus Journal, a transdisciplinary journal for new perspectives that integrate knowledge from all fields of science, art and humanities.

Earlier Mr. Jacobs served for five years as founder and Member Secretary of the International Commission on Peace & Food, which worked on strategies to promote peaceful and equitable transition following the end of the Cold War and co-authored the Commission's report to the United Nations.

Mr. Jacobs has spent about half of his adult life in India studying Integral Yoga, the spiritual philosophy of Sri Aurobindo and The Mother and applying insights from it to economic and social development, business management, education and psychology. He presently serves as Vice President of Social Science Research at The Mother's Service Society, a recognized social science and educational research institute based in Pondicherry, India.

Mr. Jacobs has also studied more than 50 highly successful businesses in USA, Europe and Asia and co-authored two management books in the USA and conducted dozens of consulting assignments and executive training programs for multinational corporations, small and medium size companies around the world on strategies to accelerate growth and profitability.

In 2015 Dr. Jacobs was elected as a full International Member of the Club of Rome. In 2014 he was appointed as Distinguished Professor of Transdisciplinary Social Science at Person-Centered Approach Institute (Italy), one of Italy's leading post-graduate institutions for training in clinical psychology. He is also an author of a spiritual novel on personal growth, organizational development and social evolution.
