

Giga Kutkhashvili

FH JOANNEUM University of Applied Sciences, Graz, Austria

Servus!

„Receiving education in the heart of Europe at least one semester and daily contact with foreign students is a unique and most important experience of my life. Constantly interacting with people from different cultures and sharing information with them makes it really interesting to be in Austria. I think this period will significantly contribute to my professional development. Today, I smile, remembering the excitement I experienced before leaving, because the environment here is nothing if not what Georgia aspires to.”