

Maia Kochiashvili

University of Alcala, Spain

Caucasus School of Economics

„Going abroad under the Erasmus+ program I believe is the best part of student life. After I was admitted at the University, my purpose was to spend one semester at any European University. University of Alcala has helped me to achieve this goal. Apart from the fact that I have increased my English language skills, I have received vital experience too.

As a result of living in a different country for 5 months, you become more independent and you start to think sharply, you are the one who find the solutions from complicated situations. You are introduced to a new culture and gain new friends. Altogether, you return more self-confident, you collect lots of happy memories, which will stay with you for the rest of your life. Exchange program helps you in both, career advancement and personal development.”