

Teona Kheladze

Lille Catholic University, France

„Studying and living in a foreign country was a challenge for me, but I must say that I have gained a lot of experience and I have overcome this challenge. Communicating with the French, different learning methods, foreign lecturers and students from cities around the world were great novelties in my life, which helped me to grow and develop both personally and professionally. This experience, I think, will be a big step forward in my career.”