

Shota Nizharadze, Ketevan Datukishvili, Ketevan Grdzeldz, Irakli Pirtskhalava

Technical University of Sofia, Bulgaria

„On May 19-25, within the framework of Erasmus+ mobility, we attended the International Staff Week organized by the Technical University of Sofia. Within the program, the representatives of the participant universities prepared presentations about the research field and the universities themselves.

It was very interesting to learn about the activities, research fields and technical approaches of other universities in the region. In addition, Erasmus+ exchange students at the Technical University of Sofia prepared presentations about their experiences and field of the study. During the visit, a discussion was held with the representatives of the participant and the host universities about the development of the field technology, student motivation and opportunities for cooperation. We also took part in cultural events, learned about the history of Bulgaria, the current situation and visited the cultural sights of Sofia and Plovdiv.

We think that this type of mobility helps to strengthen cooperation between staff and universities, as well as to increase opportunities and deepen knowledge and experience. The relationships formed during the week will allow us to deepen cooperation in the professional field and implement innovative projects.”