SNSPA- The National University of Political Studies and Public Administration, Romania

Within the Erasmus+ Teaching Mobility program, during April 15-19 I have visited the National University of Political Studies and Public Administration, Romania.

During the visit, I led the course “Euro integration processes in Georgia” for master and doctoral level students from the faculty of Political Science. Also, I had an opportunity to meet the professors from the host faculty to discuss the possibilities of future collaboration.

Besides, I had the opportunity to meet with the representatives of the faculty of Political Science from University of Bucharest. We discussed the viewpoints on cooperation between the Universities.
