„On May 13-17, within the Erasmus+ Teaching Mobility program, I have participated in the International Staff Training Week program, organized by FH JOANNEUM University of Applied Sciences, Austria.

During the mobility, company visits have been planned to the leading organizations. We received information about the organization's structure, work, technological advancement and human resources. Over the course of the group works, we discussed the importance and role of the artificial intelligence as well as Higher Educational institutions part in the promotion of employment.

It should be noted that such programs encourage sharing of the international practice, establishing interpersonal connections and implementation of innovation projects.

I would like to express gratitude towards Caucasus University for giving me the opportunity to participate in the mobility program and for supporting my professional development.”
