

Ana Razmadze

Caucasus School of Governance

University of Coimbra

„In the spring semester of 2024, I had the opportunity to study at the University of Coimbra in Portugal through the Erasmus+ exchange program. This experience has undoubtedly given me the opportunity to grow both personally and academically. It was very interesting for me to study Portuguese culture, language, and values in more depth. The University of Coimbra itself is a cultural landmark, founded as far back as 1290, and it attracts many exchange students every year. It is also worth noting the warm attitude and kindness of the Portuguese people towards foreign citizens.

In addition, one of the greatest privileges of the exchange program is traveling. Not only was I able to see the most beautiful parts and cities of Portugal, but I was also given the opportunity to travel to other European countries, which allowed me to study European values even more deeply.

In conclusion, I would like to say that exchange programs are undoubtedly one of the best means of cultural interaction. You are given the chance to make new friends, represent your country, share views, and deepen your cultural and academic knowledge. You have the opportunity to create the best combination of learning and fun, spending your free time with people from different cities around the world who share similar interests. This is an opportunity not to be missed, as it will undoubtedly be your best student experience."