

Tinatin Bakuradze

Caucasus School of Business

University of Ljubljana, Slovenia

„I dreamed about studying abroad since my school years. Caucasus University, which I unconditionally chose after graduating from Tbilisi Classical Gymnasium, gave me the necessary knowledge and experience to think about participating in the international exchange programs and made my dreams come true. This motivation turned out to be crucial for my future.

I participated in the Erasmus+ exchange program from the fourth year of my studies. On the one hand, it was a difficult decision to leave my job, the environment and my friends for 6 months, but I could not give up on my objectives for the sake of comfort.

From the day I arrived in Slovenia, my life changed completely. I can confidently say that while studying in Europe, I discovered myself and understood exactly what I must do in life and what I should fight for. I realized what effort is needed to be successful in the future.

The people I met there remain as an integral part of my daily life to this day. Although, certain time has passed since my return, we have already met several times. I never thought that I would find so many similarities with people of completely different cultures.

Exciting, practical skills-oriented learning process, new discoveries, traveling in the host Slovenia and beyond, meeting diverse people up close and discovering new countries are unforgettable memories that I will never forget. I believe that the acquired knowledge, academic progress skills, and experience will definitely help me navigate the path of future success.”