Caucasus School of Law

Inholland University of Applied Sciences, The Netherlands

„My unforgettable journey began in the fall of 2024 in the Netherlands, where I looked at myself with new eyes and got to know myself better.

I studied international law at Inholland University of Applied Sciences as part of an Erasmus+ scholarship. It was not only academic, but also life experience – a friendly environment, interactive and innovative learning methods, and individual approaches tailored to students. In addition to the fact that the knowledge I received at the university significantly expanded my legal vision, it was a special experience to visit the International Criminal Court, where I had direct contact with the global legal system.

However, I cannot call my experience only an exchange program. It was an opportunity to study with the best students from different countries of the world, meet outstanding professors of Inholland University and hold discussions not only on legal issues, but also on world events in a wider context.

Every second spent in the Netherlands is unforgettable – trips to neighboring countries, new friends, everyday life full of cultural diversity and challenges that have developed me personally and professionally.

We will always face difficulties in life but overcoming them gives us the opportunity to make our goals a reality. It was this international opportunity that taught me how to adapt to a new environment, overcome challenges and believe that nothing is impossible. Trust the journey and never be ashamed of trying.

Thanks to the Caucasus School of Law for this opportunity.”
